

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A liquid crystal display includes a display part displaying an image in accordance with image display data supplied through data signal lines, and a driving part driving the data signal lines by using a plurality of driving devices simultaneously for each data signal line.

5